

Allocations

As a seller, you can group articles into allocation groups and specify the minimum and maximum amounts your customer is allowed to order.

T1 provides two modules to enable you to manage allocations: “Allocation groups” and “Customer allocations”. First, you need to create an allocation group and assign articles to it, then you need to assign allocation groups to customers and define the quantity for each group. A customer cannot place an order for an article with a quantity less than the minimum allocation or greater than the maximum allocation. Each article is added to one allocation group only, but a customer can have multiple allocation groups.

The next sections explain how to manage the allocation groups and customer allocations.
