Add line architecture articles

Adding articles to line architecture catalogs is different than master and inherited catalogs. You can add articles in three different ways:

- New ⊕ : to add a new article that is not included in any of the linked catalogs.

- Carryover ↱ : to add articles from linked catalogs with the same attributes.

- Comp = : to add articles similar to linked catalog articles but attribute values can be changed.

To add an article, click ☰ , the button expands to show the above options.

Add a new article:

To add a new article, follow these steps:

1. Click ⊕ , the following window appears:

2. Fill the article name and attribute values,
3. Click Save to add the article and close the window or Save and New to add the article and open a new window.
Notes:

- The article number is automatically generated with this format NN-xxxxxx (where xxxxxx is a 6 digit number).
- Calculated attributes values cannot be entered, they are automatically calculated.

Add carryover articles:
